The Secret Ingredient to Leading a Successful Early Childhood Program

This day has been planned with today's owners and administrators in mind! We will determine the secret ingredients needed to lead and energize your staff, educate and partner with parents, and provide the highest quality of care for the children in your program. In addition, you will be given the opportunity to connect with other professionals that experience the same day to day issues and challenges. As a bonus, you will spend the day in a relaxed and stress free environment that will help you feel renewed and revitalized! This day is for YOU!

The Secret Ingredient to a Successful Classroom

Setting the Stage – Bright colors? Neutral colors? Plants? Animals? Oh my! Join me to explore the key ingredients needed in every early childhood environment.

Planning with a Purpose - What is the first thing an early childhood teacher should do before creating a lesson plan? Who dictates what and how a plan is developed? In this session, you will discover the secret ingredient to successful planning!

The Top Three Activity Ingredients - Do your activities offer the necessary secret ingredients? Did you know these very ingredients could change your entire classroom? You will not want to miss this hands-on session that might have you changing your recipe for success!

Our Speaker:

Kathy H. Lee, author of The Homegrown Preschooler, 101 Easy Wacky Crazy Activities and Solutions for Early Childhood Directors has been dedicated to the well-being of young children for over 25 years. As a former administrator and teacher, Kathy has extensive experience in the field of early childhood education. She is the homeschooling mother of eight children, both bio and adopted and enjoys sharing her journey of motherhood. A sought after speaker worldwide, Kathy is most often described as a passionate, experienced, and knowledgeable presenter. In addition to speaking, Kathy is a featured blogger for Gryphon House Books and regular contributor for www.schoolhouseteachers.com. She and her husband John live with their many blessings in Canton, GA.
